

Barrington Hills Park District

Do you take lessons at the Riding Center?

If you do, your trainer must be approved by the Barrington Hills Park District. All trainers must:

- Register and have their application approved by the Park Board
- Pay a yearly fee
- Provide a certificate of insurance with a 1 million dollar liability coverage listing the Park District as an additional insured
- Wear their trainer badge
- Use the online calendar to schedule their lessons

This applies to all trainers, no matter how many lessons they teach at the Riding Center.

Park District approves creation of a User Fee System for the Riding Center

To address rising maintenance costs and increased usage of the Riding Center, the Barrington Hills Park District has unanimously approved the creation of a User Fee System. Details such as fees for residents and non-residents, plus how the program will be administered and enforced, are still being finalized.
